Corporate and M&A
Energy

Patricio has experience in advising on and implementing legal strategies for domestic and foreign investors and companies in a broad range of industrial sectors, and he specializes in corporate and transactional matters, providing comprehensive assistance in the establishment, development and operation of businesses in Mexico.

Experience

Patricio Espinosa Esparza is an associate in the Corporate and M&A and Energy practices with experience in the formation of business entities and civil law partnerships, in advising on and implementing both ordinary and extraordinary corporate actions, and in managing corporate records. He has also participated in the preparation of corporate, administrative and contractual documentation for implementing commercial transactions. Patricio specializes in the planning and creation of corporate structures, and in strategic consulting in contract engineering.

He has extensive experience in advising on and implementing different transactions, such as mergers, spin-offs, acquisitions, contractual protections for start-ups, corporate and asset restructuring and regularization processes, and investments and divestments.

His practice also includes sale and purchase transactions, co-investments and joint ventures, the creation and implementation of asset planning vehicles, due diligence processes and public tenders, the grant of security and financing, wealth succession advice, private trusts (asset and commercial), as well as strategic advice on navigating the new legal challenges impacting companies’ operations.

He is a native Spanish speaker and is fluent in English.
