

2007 Wektor Award

Antonio Garrigues emerged as one of the winners of the 2007 Wektor Awards, presented annually by the Confederation of Polish Employers. As well as highlighting the work of the Firm's Chairman, the Confederation wished to expressly acknowledge the high standard of the service that Garrigues provides to its clients, "thanks to which, the number of Spanish investors in Poland has seen a significant increase".

The Wektor Awards are Poland's most prestigious economic and business awards and reward the efforts and achievements of firms or institutions that have played their part in furthering the development of Poland's economy and society.
