EU and Antitrust Law

Administrative and Constitutional Law

Planning, Zoning and Environment

Guillermo Sánchez is a principal associate in Garrigues' Administrative Law department, where he specializes in EU and antitrust law, FDI/National security, public procurement, planning and zoning and administrative law. He handles the management of administrative and judicial review proceedings and also provides strategic, specialized advice in these areas. He holds a law degree from Universidad Pompeu Fabra and a Master's Degree for Access to the Legal Profession, majoring in public law, from the same university. Guillermo teaches various subjects of administrative law and EU and antitrust law at Universidad de Barcelona (UB) and at Instituto Superior de Derecho y Empresa (ISDE).

Experience

Guillermo Sánchez de Miquel has been a principal associate in Garrigues' Administrative Law Department since 2024, after joining the firm in 2013.

He has a wealth of experience in all aspects of EU and antitrust law, as well as FDI/National Security in Spain. In particular, Guillermo regularly participates in:

- Administrative and judicial review proceedings related to cartels and national and international breaches of antitrust law.
- Merger filings before the national and European antitrust authorities.
- FDI/National Security filings before the Spanish authorities.
- Analysis of vertical and horizontal agreements.
- Compliance and internal training processes for companies in connection with antitrust law.
- Cases involving state aid and subsidies.

Guillermo also has vast experience in all the different areas of administrative law, in judicial review proceedings and planning and zoning law. He provides recurring advice both to private and public entities in all types of proceedings before the public authorities, in administrative proceedings and judicial review appeals. He regularly participates in:

- Judicial review appeals involving planning and zoning.
- Infringement proceedings and proceedings to restore planning and zoning compliance.
- Drafting, providing advice on and processing of planning instruments.
- Drafting, providing advice on and processing of zoning management instruments (reallotment plans etc.).
- Planning and zoning due diligence reviews.
- Public procurement advice.

Guillermo also has extensive experience across the different areas of Administrative Law and Administrative Litigation. He advises on a wide range of sector-specific Administrative Law matters, including, among others, defense, pharmaceutical, construction, funeral services, infrastructure, and urban planning.

He also provides ongoing advice in all these fields, mainly through continuous analysis according to each client's needs, providing strategic preventive and reactive bespoke advice to clients.
