Germán Gómez Gallegos is a senior associate in the Banking and Financial Law, Capital Markets Law, Mergers and Acquisitions and Commercial Contracts and Corporate Law practice. He has more than seven years experience providing comprehensive advice on corporate, commercial and financial matters, developing legal financing structures, carrying out due diligence processes, and providing advise on corporate, banking, securities market and fintech regulatory legal matters.

Experience

Germán Gómez Gallegos has been a senior associate at Garrigues since 2026 and previously associated since 2023. He specializes in commercial law, having participated in several financing and capital markets transactions (including international issuances under Reg S and Rule 144A), as well as mergers and acquisitions of both domestic and foreign companies.

Germán has extensive experience in local issuances and international issuances under Rule 144-A and Regulation S, sovereign issuances, and public debt, and frequently advises both financial institutions and local entities on syndicated loans, securitization processes, and project finance transactions.

Before joining Garrigues, Germán worked as an associate at Rubio Leguía Normand and as arbitration assistant to Fernando Cantuarias Salaverry.
