Labor and Employment

Giovana is a lawyer with experience in the public and private sector. She specializes in labor consulting and has advised national and multinational companies, both in individual and collective matters.

Her practice focuses on carrying out internal labor audits, verifying labor compliance by companies in due diligence processes, as well as handling inspections by the Ministry of Labor and Social Welfare.

Experience

Giovana Stefania Cardenas Hudorovich is an associate in the Labor and Employment practice. She has worked for well-known firms where she led the consultancy area, advising companies to ensure their compliance with the applicable legislation, both at individual and collective level. Her work includes keeping companies up to date with legal reforms and providing support in due diligence processes for clients' businesses. She was previously a specialist in labor relations at the Querétaro State Water Commission, where she was in charge of reviewing and analyzing audits, medical leave processes, and negotiations with the labor union.

She has experience working for notary's offices, where her duties included assisting clients in the preparation of projects for the incorporation of companies, sale and purchases, powers of attorney, ratifications of signatures and minutes of meetings.

Giovana is a native Spanish speaker and speaks English fluently.
