Corporate and M&A
Banking and Finance

Leonardo has more than four years of professional experience at leading law firms in Mexico City, specializing in corporate and financial law, mergers and acquisitions and transactional matters. Currently, he advises domestic and international clients on acquisitions of companies and assets, as well as on structured financing arrangements. His practice covers the drafting and review of legal due diligence reports, the preparation of transactional and corporate documentation, and providing support in the structuring and implementation of complex transactions.

Experience

Leonardo Alonso Corbiere is a member of the Corporate and Transactional Law practice at the Mexico City office.

He has experience advising domestic and international clients on corporate and transactional law, participating in the structuring, negotiation and implementation of different kinds of corporate and commercial transactions.

He has participated in acquisitions of companies and assets, assisting in the analysis of legal risks, the drafting of due diligence reports and the legal structuring of transactions.

He also provides recurring advice on financing transactions, including the review, negotiation and drafting of loan agreements, security and other related documentation.

As part of his practice, he is involved in the preparation and review of the corporate and transactional documentation required for the implementation and closing of transactions. He also coordinates with clients, multidisciplinary teams, and external advisers in connection with gathering information, monitoring key milestones and ensuring the successful completion of domestic and cross-border transactions.
