Dispute Resolution: Litigation and Arbitration

Guillermo Sánchez Galicia is a lawyer specializing in civil and commercial litigation and arbitration, with experience in complex disputes involving insurance, civil liability, and contract enforcement. He has represented leading insurance companies in Mexico, including Axa Seguros S.A. de C.V., Seguros Atlas S.A., and Seguros Argos S.A. de C.V., participating in the development of litigation strategies and the comprehensive management of court and arbitration proceedings.

He has experience in domestic arbitration under institutional rules such as CAM and CANACO, including the representation of mining companies in complex disputes. His practice includes preparing and drafting claims, answers, motions, and constitutional protection (“amparo”) proceedings, as well as preparing and presenting evidence, including specialized expert opinions.

A graduate of Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, he won the best oral advocate award at the UP ICC México Moot 2025 and participated in the CIAR Moot Quito 2024. He currently coaches the team representing the UNAM Law School in arbitration competitions.

Experience

Guillermo Sánchez Galicia is a lawyer in Garrigues’ Litigation and Arbitration practice.

In the area of insurance and civil liability, he has taken part in the defense of leading Mexican insurance companies – Axa Seguros S.A. de C.V., Seguros Atlas S.A., and Seguros Argos S.A. de C.V. – in litigation arising from insurance claims, coverage disputes, and subrogation matters. His work includes designing litigation strategies, drafting answers to complaints, filing motions, filing ordinary and extraordinary appeals, and handling constitutional protection (“amparo”) proceedings.

In commercial arbitration, he has participated in proceedings under the rules of CAM and CANACO, representing companies in the mining sector, such as Minera Media Luna S.A. de C.V., in disputes involving high technical complexity and significant monetary amounts.

In commercial insolvency proceedings, he has participated in the representation of both traders and creditors, handling the recognition of claims, conducting negotiations with the parties involved, and monitoring the conciliation and bankruptcy phases.
