Corporate and M&A

Agribusiness and Food

José Manuel Hernando is a partner in Garrigues' Corporate Law practice and is head of that practice in the Levante area. In the course of his professional activity, José Manuel advises mainly on mergers and acquisitions, corporate restructurings and financings, and also provides recurring advice on commercial law matters to both privately-held corporate groups and multinational groups. Throughout his professional career he has acquired an in-depth knowledge of various sectors such as real estate, public services, industry, chemicals and particularly in the agri-food sector, where he has extensive experience and the recognition of clients and operators in the sector. José Manuel was an International Visiting Lawyer in the New York office of the US firm Sullivan & Cromwell, where he joined its corporate practice. He also holds an LLM Cum Laude in the Master in Corporate Law at IE (Madrid), where he ranked as the number 1 student in his class. He was recognized with the Jovenes Juristas Award granted by the University of Navarra and the Garrigues Foundation.

Experience

José Manuel Hernando is a partner in the Corporate Law practice of Garrigues and is head of this practice in the Levante area. Throughout his professional career, José Manuel has advised a large number of companies in a wide range of sectors, such as the agri-food, real estate and residential, chemical, renewable energies, public works and services, industrial and audiovisual sectors. Particularly noteworthy is his experience and knowledge of the problems and particularities of companies in the agri-food sector, a sector where he has lead the legal advise in numerous and relevant M&A transactions and where he has been advising on a recurring basis to different players of that industry for many years.

Many of the companies he regularly advises are regional and national leaders in their respective activities, in some cases with privately-held shareholding and in others companies being part of multinational groups. His accumulated professional experience allows him to have a global vision of legal advice oriented to the client's business and business needs.

He has participated in numerous M&A transactions, shareholders' agreements, financing, corporate structural modifications, incorporation and regulation of joint ventures, as well as in the management, negotiation and resolution of corporate shareholders' conflicts.

Between 2007 and 2008 he was an International Visiting Lawyer at the US firm Sullivan & Cromwell (in its New York office), integrated in its general corporate practice, where he participated in project finance transactions in Latin America, specifically in the mining sector, as well as in multiple debt and securities issues (senior notes, preferred stock, hybrid securities) as part of the legal team representing both issuers (particularly financial institutions) and underwriters.
