Sustainability

Fernando Crespo is the partner in charge of Garrigues' Employment and Labor practice on the East coast of Spain (excluding Cataluña). He has pursued his professional career at the firm following a stint at Arthur Andersen.

As a labor lawyer, he is an expert in business restructuring, collective bargaining, employment contracts, senior management matters, and international postings and assignments, among other fields, having participated in major transactions throughout his professional career. He has also acted as an adviser to major sports entities.

Degree in Law from Universidad CEU Cardenal Herrera, with a Master's Degree in Business Management from the same university and a Master's Degree in Human Resources Management and Administration from the CEF. He has also completed a 15x15 Master's Degree at EDEM.

He has delivered presentations to myriad organizations, particularly to the Valencia parliament, various public and private bodies, as well as business associations, and has been a lecturer at EDEM, Centro de Estudios Financieros (CEF), Universidad CEU Cardenal Herrera, Fundación Universidad-Empresa ADEIT and FUNDESEM.

He is a member of the Valencia Bar Association.

Experience

Fernando Crespo has been a partner in Garrigues' Employment and Labor Department since 2009, having pursued his entire professional career at the firm since joining Arthur Andersen in 1995.

In his professional practice, he has participated in processes involving highly complex matters and in different sectors, including:

- Highly complex collective layoffs due to the number of affected workers and the circumstances involved.
- Temporary collective layoff procedures.
- Negotiations in the context of calls for strikes.
- Procedures involving the disapplication of collective labor agreements, material modifications to working conditions and transfers.
- Negotiation of collective labor agreements at both the industry and company level, as well as of other types of collective agreements.
- Litigation stemming from collective disputes and individual claims.

In addition to the above-mentioned advice on strategic transactions, he also provides ongoing labor law advice to clients, both Spanish and foreign, as well as on senior management matters and on international assignment processes.

Lastly, he has provided labor law advice involving sports law to major sports entities and regarding highly significant sporting events.
