Mergers & Acquisitions

Ramón J. Gómez Coll is a partner in the Tax Law practice and belongs to the Family Business and Mergers and Acquisitions specialization groups.

He has extensive experience in advising on family business succession matters.

He has participated in the planning and execution of company sales processes, advising on the transfer and, subsequently, on the holding structure of the assets received by the sellers.

He has been involved in a multitude of equity restructuring operations aimed at achieving the business and family objectives of the partners, analyzing their impact from the tax point of view and, in particular, in the compliance with the requirements to apply the Family Business Regime.

He is a recurring advisor in the tax area of numerous companies and multinational groups. In the latter area, he intervenes in the analysis of the taxation of international financing operations and company acquisitions.
